BIG BUDDY CLUB ORGANIZED WITH LEGION BACKING

Truman School Building Secured as Headquarters of Activity

The Big Buddy club of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, was organized at a meeting last evening at the Legion hall, and plans were formulated for the opening of the Boys' club in the Truman school building, which has been secured by permission of the board of education and which will be ready for occupancy early in September.

In addition to the governing body selected from the Legion post, Commander J. M. Brady plans to select a special citizens' committee, composed of individuals who are interested in boys' work, to assist in the program. The Big Buddy movement is one which is being sponsored by the national Legion organization; the Boys' club program is the original idea of Commander Brady of this city, and has received the unanimous endorsement of the northwest Illinois district Legion organization, which will submit the plan at the state department convention at Rockford next month, and later to the national department gathering.

Realizing the necessity for providing active entertainment for boys of the city, the Legion post has secured the Truman school building for the club headquarters. The committee in charge welcomes suggestions of any interested citizen in formulating the program to provide healthy and educational activities among the youth of Dixon. This will include boxing, wrestling, archery, basketball, baseball and many other forms of activity.

Equipment Needed
It will be necessary to purchase considerable equipment and any citizen desiring to make a contribution toward the worthy project may do so by contacting any member of the executive committee, by leaving the same at either of the local banks, or by mailing direct to the Big Buddy club, box 172. The contributions are to be used solely in the Boys' club program. Some of the more active committees were named at the meeting last evening and others will be announced within a few days including committees for crippled children's activity entertaining and transportation.

Three committees appointed at the special meeting last evening are composed of the following:
Executive Committee—J. M. Brady, chairman; Rae Arnold, Lloyd Lewis, William Kennedy, Elwin Bunnell, H. F. Walder, Dudley Friedline.
Finance Committee—Walter L. Smith, chairman and treasurer; L. F. Beane, Frank Wadzinski, Carl Goff, Edward Christian, Dwight Rolph and E. N. Boyer.

Louis Etnyre Files Damage Suit Against T. J. Lyons Estate

Louis E. Etnyre of this city has filed an action in the Lee county circuit court against William M. Loftus, administrator of the estate of Thomas J. Lyons of Amboy, deceased, seeking judgment in the sum of $10,000 claimed for personal damages and injuries. The complaint alleges that Thomas J. Lyons, deceased, failed to exercise due care and precaution in the operation of his automobile on the night of November 17, 1937 on Mason street between Hawley and Bacon streets in Amboy, and thereby carelessly and negligently struck the car of the plaintiff.

In the bill, the plaintiff claims the sum of $1,000 due to absence from his place of business in Dixon, while confined in the Amboy hospital suffering from injuries which were severe and of a permanent nature; $115 is claimed for hospital bills and $94 for physician's services. A claim of $500 is also made for damage to the Etnyre car, and a judgment totaling $10,000 is sought against the administrator of the Lyons estate.

BITTER CHARGES CUT OFF TODAY AT TVA'S PROBE

Knoxville, Tenn., July 26.—(AP)—Bitter charges and counter-charges in the congressional investigation of the TVA were cut short today when the committee agreed to move on to "the more constructive phases" of the inquiry.

Director David E. Lilienthal had returned to the stand for the fourth day and was reading a lengthy document answering charges by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, ousted TVA chairman, when committee members voiced their impatience with continued personalities. Lilienthal had accused Dr. Morgan of "collaborating" with private utility executives in 1936 on a plan for power pooling and concealing his action from the TVA board. He likewise had denied charges by Dr. Morgan that he released false publicity concerning his negotiations with Wendell L. Wilkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern, for the sale of properties to public interests.

Only three committeemen were present when Lilienthal's testimony was cut short and he was asked to submit his contentions for the record without reading them from the stand.

The members were Senator Lynn Frazier (R-N.D.), Senator N. H. Schwartz (D-Wyo.), and Rep. Charles Wolverton (R-N.H.).

Lilienthal had read about four pages of a 23-page statement when Frazier broke into say that too much time was being taken in reading lengthy documents. He suggested Lilienthal submit them for the record.

"It would suit me," the director replied. "I'm not enjoying this either. I'm not doing this because of something I initiated but I have my honor and the honor of TVA to defend."

TESTIMONY ENDS

Woman Rounds Out Fifth Year in Jail and Still Keeps Her Secret

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—Who said a woman can't keep a secret? Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer today was rounding out five years in the Cook county jail, all because "she won't tell."

What this 53-year-old widow won't tell is the satisfaction of the courts is what disposition was made of part of a $30,000 estate. It's a long story of legal complications that have been dragging through the courts for about 15 years.

Her husband, Edward Tegtmeyer, was trustee of an estate of his father, Henry. When Edward died in 1924 and Mrs. Tegtmeyer became trustee of his estate, minor heirs of the elder Tegtmeyer filed a bill alleging they had $30,000 due Mrs. Tegtmeyer refused to give Georgiana Griffith Brown, wife of Hugh T. Brown, was born, October 10, 1872 in Ashton, the daughter of Stanwood J. and Elizabeth Charters Griffith.

She attended the Ashton school, graduating with the class of 1889. She went to Brown's Business college in Rockford where she completed a business course and for several years was a stenographer in the G. O. Williams law office in Rockford.

On October 11, 1905 she was married to Hugh T. Brown of Rockford, the officiating pastor being the Rev. T. E. Stevens who at that time was Presbyterian pastor in Ashton. On her marriage she transferred her membership to the First Presbyterian church of Rockford where she has always been active in the church and Sunday school work. ### Letter Mailed in 1903 Delivered in Nelson Last Sunday

In the days of the pony express it wasn't unusual for mail to be delayed. Even then it was only a matter of a few days. However, it is hardly considered possible that in any day a postal card could take a 35 year detour before being delivered.

That is what happened in the case of a card received Sunday by Mrs. Henry Duffy of Nelson. The card was post marked October 13, 1903—as nearly as the date can be made out—and reached Clinton, Iowa, and where it was stamped on July 23, 1938.

Miss Agnes Collins sent the card from Waukon, Iowa, addressed to Miss Lizzy Conway who has since become Mrs. Duffy. Miss Collins is now living in Allamakee county in Iowa and became Mrs. McDermott 35 years ago.

The card received Sunday bore a Franklin stamp of a 1902 series which gives added proof of its antiquity.

JAPAN REPORTS BREAKING LINE FOR OFFENSIVE

Shanghai, July 26.—(AP)—The Japanese command announced its army had at last opened a path for a major offensive against Hankow today by occupying Kiukiang and thereby breaking the principal Chinese defense line in the Yangtze valley.

Kiukiang is 135 miles down the Yangtze river from Hankow, provisional Chinese capital. The Japanese had tried more than three weeks to force entry into the city.

The army of Nippon entered it this morning, the Japanese announced, after Chinese defenses began to crumble late Monday night.

Chinese claims to the contrary, the Japanese said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops were retreating to the west and southwest, presumably hoping later to swing back north to form new defenses for the capital.

While the army completed its occupation of Kiukiang, the Japanese announcement related, Japanese warships advanced slowly through mine fields in the Yangtze and, with army and navy air forces, joined in shelling and bombing the retreating Chinese.

Chinese asserted the Japanese had landed 10,000 fresh troops and 100 tanks at Hukow in preparation for the final thrust against Kiukiang.

Most civilians fled the city before its capture. Fourteen miles to the southeast lies the Kuling mountain resort where 150 foreigners, including more than 50 Americans, are staying. There have been fears here that they might be endangered should fighting turn in that direction.

Princeton's Light Service Disrupted By Storm Last Eve

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—Heavy rainfall, accompanied by sharp lightning, struck Chicago and Illinois communities last night, breaking the excessive heat. The high temperatures resulted in four deaths. The storm caused property damage of thousands of dollars.

Temperatures in the 90's were the rule throughout the state yesterday, with Springfield's 96 the highest reported.

In Chicago a woman was killed by lightning. During the day when the temperature reached a new season high of 92, three men died of heat prostration. Several communities reported rains during the night.

Rain and hail and lightning flooded the streets of Princeton. The city's light plant was put out of service when fire in the single available boiler was drowned out during the hour and a half rain and hail deluge. The plant is being remodeled, and installation of a new steam turbine and additional boiler will not be completed for two weeks.

Communists Alone Mark Anniversary

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 26.—(AP)—The Communist party of President Roosevelt's home county took charge today of the only organized observance here of the 150th anniversary of New York's ratification of the federal constitution.

In circulars spread throughout Dutchess county, Frank Brooks, Communist county organizer and others of the party, praised Melancthon Smith, Dutchess delegate to the New York convention that ratified the constitution here July 26, 1788, as "a fighter against reactionaries."

George Clinton, New York's first state governor, and his states' rights followers unsuccessfully had opposed ratification without an amendment providing that "no person should be eligible for a third term" as president.

Pickaback Plane Completes Testing

Horta, Azores, July 26.—(AP)—The British pickaback seaplane Mercury, returning from her trans-Atlantic test flight, arrived today at 1:30 P. M. (9:30 A. M. C. S. T.) from Botwood, Newfoundland.

A little more than two hours ahead of the British plane, the German seaplane Nordmeer arrived from Port Washington, N. Y., at 11:23 A. M. (6:23 A. M. C. S. T.), having required 14 hours 23 minutes for the hop.

The Mercury was eight hours eight minutes out of Botwood. She is returning by way of Lisbon, Portugal, and Southampton, England, to her base at Foynes Ireland, where she was launched from the back of her mothership, the flying boat Mala, for her first trans-Atlantic crossing July 20.

Was Fast Thinker

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—Chauffeur Bert Saggerman intentionally violated two traffic rules and won the praise of policemen.

Saggerman drove through a red light and then made a left hand turn directly in front of Policeman Michael Mulvihill.

As the chauffeur hoped, Mulvihill whistled sharply. Saggerman stopped his car and jumped out, calling "there's a robber in the car."

The policeman found Eugene Nolan, 41, in the machine. Saggerman told Mulvihill that Nolan stepped into the car, took 80 cents from him and ordered him to drive north.

New Distress Signal For Missing Planes Has Been Reported

Pasadena, Calif., July 26.—(AP)—An automatic radio distress signal to rid flying of its "missing plane" bugbear was reported today at California Institute of Technology. The instant a plane equipped with this "little black box" goes down in a forced landing, even though it be demolished, the distress signal will begin to work. For as long as four days it will send out uninterrupted short wave calls for help.

Anthony Easton, young Cal-Tech research physicist, said a commercial airline executive and Major Daniel F. Ellis, U. S. Army air reserve officer, are co-inventors of the device. It is a rugged little battery-operated radio sending station, insulated from fire.

It is to be suspended from coil springs within the tail of an airplane, that portion which receives least damage in a hard landing.

A heavy jolt will start the small set sending out distress signals. The co-inventors believe a searching plane will be guided straight to the spot where the overdue plane goes down.

Oldest Building will be Replaced

The Murphy building on First St., formerly occupied by Miller-Jones shoe store, is soon to be replaced with a modern structure, it was reported today, the work to be done by Contractor George Lindquist. The Murphy building, The Telegraph is informed, was erected in the fall of 1846, was the first brick building in the city, and is now the oldest one. This will be the second of the older buildings in Dixon to go in recent years, the last being the Dr. Brooks' structure on Galena avenue, built in 1885, and owned by R. A. Roedel for nearly a quarter of a century. The Union block, occupied by the Boynton-Richards Co., was constructed in 1854.

EFFORT MADE TO HALT INQUEST IN HEIRESS' DEATH

Surprise Move Made by Attorney for the Executors

Toronto, July 26.—(Canadian Press)—A surprise move aimed at shutting off the inquest into the death of Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley, malted milk heiress, was made today by D. L. McCarthy, attorney for the executors of Mrs. Sidley's estate.

As the inquest opened, McCarthy sought to stop the proceedings on the ground that the coroner lacked jurisdiction to conduct such a hearing. The inquest was ordered by Attorney General Gordon Connat of Ontario.

McCarthy's grounds were: 1. The inquest order was not made until July 15, nine days after Mrs. Sidley's death and after her body had been sent to Racine, Wis., for burial.

2. The coroner, Dr. Smirle Lawson, had acted in his personal capacity as a physician by examining Mrs. Sidley at the request of her son, William.

Proposed Adjournment

The lawyer proposed adjournment of what he called the "prostituted proceedings" until a decision of the Supreme Court of Ontario could be obtained on the point.

Dr. Lawson said McCarthy had no status at the inquest, asserting that no one was on trial. Without commenting further McCarthy's objections, he opened the proceedings.

Before the first witness took the stand, the coroner told the 12-man jury:

"It is for us to dedicate ourselves to the task of determining when, where and by what means Mrs. Sidley came to her death. I want you to forget any pre-conceived ideas that you may have. In this inquest there is no one on trial, no person has been charged with anything. Listen to the evidence carefully and judge it without malice or ill-will to anyone."

Postal Service in United States is 163 Years Old Today

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—The United States postal service—which is 163 years old today—has one problem as old as itself—poorly addressed letters.

A postal official estimated today that poor and careless handwriting costs the government about $1,500,000 a year. There is no telling what the people pay for it individually, he added.

The similarity of city names almost drives the clerks out of their cages. Take Cleveland, for instance. The nation has 26 besides the one in Ohio. And there are 28 Troys, and 12 Birmingham.

Cities causing a lot of trouble right now are: Homestead, Pa., and Honesdale, Pa.; Chino, Calif., and Chico, Calif.; Macon, Ill., and Macomb, Ill.; Dillon, Mont., and Dillon, Mo.; Winona, Minn., and Winona, Miss.

It's hard to believe, but: More than 100,000 Americans didn't put any address on letters last year. They didn't in fact, write anything on the envelopes—just mailed them blank.

Back from Ascent of High Mountain

Christchurch, Alaska, July 26.—(AP)—Returning to civilization, Bradford Washburn, noted Cambridge, Mass., explorer, today reported the successful ascent of Mt. Sanford, which he described as the highest peak hitherto unclimbed on the North American continent.

Washburn reported that, accompanied by Terrace Moore of Los Angeles he reached the 16,200-foot summit the night of July 21, after many days of hardship.

Pitcairn Island Isolated, Supply of Food Threatened; Radio Fails

New York, July 26.—(AP)—Pitcairn island today was isolated from the world—the isolation Fletcher Christian and his mutinous band from H. M. S. Bounty sought in 1789, but which now threatens the island's food supply.

Two failures to establish radio communication with the island plus the seeming disinclination of trading ships to call at the tiny Los Angeles he reached the 16,200-foot summit the night of July 21, after many days of hardship.

As a result she cabled Neville Chamberlain, British prime minister. "Pitcairn island radio, crippled. Urge you rush immediate aid, medicine and supplies, also investigate two month trade boycott." In another cablegram she messaged President Roosevelt: "As a citizen of United States I appeal to you, Mr. President, to request immediate British government aid for Pitcairn island. Islanders have appealed through me for medicines and supplies. No ship traded there since May 27 because of false typhoid rumors. Radio equipment new disabled and islanders isolated from world."

MAN REFUSES TO LEAVE PERCH ON BUILDING LEDGE

BULLETIN

New York, July 26.—(AP)—A slender young man who climbed out on a precarious perch on a 17th floor ledge of the Hotel Gotham, shortly after noon, was still there at 2 P. M., C. S. T. today. He continued to ignore all pleas to return inside.

New York, July 26.—(AP)—Standing precariously on the 17th story ledge of the Hotel Gotham, a man about 40 years old kept thousands of pedestrians crowded in Upper Fifth avenue today as firemen, police and hotel employees tried to persuade him to return inside.

Shortly after noon a fireman leaning out of an 18th floor window pleaded with the man, who shouted back at him:

"I want to be left alone. I'll figure this thing out for myself. Get the hell out of here." During a 15-minute interval, the man smoked almost an entire package of cigarettes, nervously lighting one after the other. Frequently he would rest his chin in one cupped hand and look below. Hotel officials identified the man as John Ward. They said he arrived this morning to visit his sister, Mrs. Patricia Valentine, who occupies a room on the 17th floor. The first hint anyone had of the trouble was when Mrs. Valentine screamed.

Firemen in rooms above and on each side kept up a rapid-fire conversation with him. They were unable to reach him because of projections outside the windows. The closest window was five feet away.

GOV. CHANDLER, TWO ASSOCIATES WERE TAKEN ILL

Physician Says Water Had Been "Doctored With Poison"

Frankfort, Ky., July 26.—(AP)—Kentucky's highway patrol proceeded today with an investigation into the asserted "poisoning" of Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Major Joe Burman, chief of the state bureau of identification, said it was "not the first time such a thing has happened during the campaign" Chandler is waging for the Democratic senatorial nomination against Senator Alben Barkley, senate majority leader.

"We have our suspicions," Major Burman said in promising an investigation "to determine who is responsible for the attempt on the governor's life."

Chandler, ill since Friday when he was stricken in a Louisville hotel, is the victim of water "doctored with poison," Dr. J. W. Bryan, his Louisville physician, said in a statement. Dr. Bryan said he did not know what kind of poison it was but added "if consumed in sufficient quantities would have caused death."

Campaign "Desperate"

Addressing a radio audience from his bedside in the executive mansion last night, Chandler said, "no campaign in recent years has been so desperate."

He recalled that he had just finished a broadcast from his Louisville hotel suite Friday when "two of my associates and I were stricken with intestinal poisoning." Dr. Bryan had said previously State Finance Commissioner J. Dan Talbott and State Highway Patrolman Jesse Wyatt "drank from the same pitcher of water" as the governor and became ill at the same time, but not as seriously.

PLAN PRECAUTIONS

Louisville, Ky., July 26.—(AP)—Shackelford Miller, Jr., campaign manager for Senator Alben Barkley in a statement today said an "ice water guard and food inspector" will be on duty when the senator speaks here Thursday in his campaign for re-nomination.

Miller said the precautions were taken after a Louisville doctor said Gov. A. B. Chandler, Barkley's opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination had drunk "poisoned" water when he spoke here last week. Miller added:

"The ice water guard will have charge of the pitcher from the time it leaves the tap until the senator or his friends on the platform have emptied it. The food inspectors may have to taste the food before he gets his meals and no one will be permitted to hand around promiscuously food or drinking during the mass meeting. "Water left in the pitcher after the speaking will be impounded for five days and if the senator is stricken ill within that time, it will be analyzed. If not it will be thrown out."

TO ORGANIZE A FFA CHAPTER AT FRANKLIN GROVE

New Agriculture Teacher Tells of His Plans For the Term

LaVerne S. Baker, a graduate from Illinois State Normal university, will handle the Smith-Hughes agriculture work at Franklin Grove high school this fall.

In a request for more information about himself, Mr. Baker reports that he was graduated from the university June 6 and at the present time is doing graduate work in agriculture at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. His home is in Winnebago but he was graduated from the Byron high school.

This will be his first year in Smith-Hughes teaching and he hopes to make it successful.

Twenty-five in Department There will be about 25 boys in the department and the courses to be taught are: Farm crops, animal husbandry and farm management.

At the present time the agriculture room of the Franklin Grove high school is being remodeled. Mr. Baker will begin his duties on August 7.

"I hope to work with the boys and get them lined up on their projects and find out what line of agriculture interests them most," Mr. Baker has said. "We will organize a chapter of Future Farmers of America as soon after school starts as possible."

President

The Lee County Fair and Horse Show association of which Dr. Grover Moss (above) is president, will open the gates for its annual event at the Dixon Airport on August 26. The fair will continue until Sunday evening and many special features are being planned for the three days and nights.

HARVEST SHOWS COUNTY CROPS ARE FAVORABLE

In an early harvest survey of the county, the reports are favorable although not unusual.

During the oat harvest many remarkable good fields have been reaped. The greater part of the crop in some communities has been flattened rather badly due to much bad weather. Much of the crop had to be cut "one way." Some black stem rust has been reported due to the excessive rains. In some cases whole fields have been so badly effected as not to be worth harvesting.

While hay has been an unusually heavy yield this year, the acreage was not so large as usual. Some of the farmers have been forced to buy some of their needs and hauled it several miles in some cases. The modern rubber tired tractor has been drafted into use by hauling as many as three loads at a time at a saving of time and expense.

Cultivated raspberries, both wild and black, have been abundant this season. Some have been picked along the fence rows. Many thrifty farmer wives have been canning the fruit at no cost save the labor.

Indications are that an unusually large acreage of clover and timothy will be cut for seed this year. Several wonderful fields have been seen.

Corn, which suffered by the rains and cold early summer, seems to be recovering well. Some places, where water stood on the fields for quite a time, have been stunted, but the majority looks good.

Wisconsin Leading In Green Pea Crop

Washington, July 26—(AP)—Wisconsin leads the country in the prospective production of green peas this year.

The agriculture department has reported the state's indicated acreage yield of 1,800 pounds would make a crop of 93,960 tons of shelled beans. Wisconsin produced 75,850 tons last year with an average acreage yield of 1,360 pounds.

Pea growers of Wisconsin planted only 140,400 acres this year. They planted 108,600 acres last year.

Nationally, the pea crop on July 15 indicated a production of 281,676 tons, a record high, the department reported. Last year growers produced 268,110 tons, the high mark up to that time.

Indicated production in states compared with last years yields, included: Michigan 9,750 and 11,250; Minnesota 18,840 and 18,240; Illinois 12,720 and 13,090; and Indiana 6,000 and 8,340.

Prospects for Corn Continue Improving

Springfield, Ill., July 26—(AP)—Illinois' corn prospects continued above average and showed further improvement due to favorable weather during the last week, the weekly report of the state and federal departments of agriculture has said.

Rains checked a developing drought in southern Illinois while drier weather was welcomed in northern counties where rainfall had been abnormally heavy for two months.

Winter wheat harvesting, almost finished, showed "a rather disappointing crop in the south, and an improved crop northward to above average and fair to good quality." Oats yields varied from poor to good, the report added. Soybeans and pastures continued "very good."

LEE COUNTY MEN HELPED BY FARM OWNERSHIP RULE

Five Farmers Are To Operate On Basis Of New Act

This spring five Lee county farmers are going to do their planting on a new basis. They are going to start operations as land owners rather than as tenants—the county's first farmers to start buying land under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act.

Among this group is August G. Bohn, announced a few weeks ago as the first to receive a tenant purchase loan in this county. Others who obtained loans are: Carleton Russell, RFD No. 1, Steward; Lloyd L. Johnson, RFD No. 2, Amboy; Chris C. Klenke, RFD No. 2, Ashton; and Alvin H. Menzinger, RFD No. 3, Dixon. E. Melville Hayes, rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration at Oregon, explained that each of these farm families has received a 40-year Federal loan with which to purchase their land.

They were selected from among 80 applicants. "We regret that so few of these applicants were able to obtain purchase loans," the supervisor said. "However, limited funds made it impossible to make more than five loans in the county prior to June 30, 1938. Since the act authorizes increasing appropriations in future years, it is expected that additional loans can be made after this year."

Forty Years to Repay Each of the five county borrowers will have up to 40 years in which to repay his loan. Interest rates are set at three per cent a year on the unpaid balance. However, the borrower may, if he desires, pay the loan in full at any time after the first five years.

As a guard against ruin from crop failures a plan of variable annual payments has been established for repayment of the loans and which may be substituted for the fixed amortization rate. Under this system, it was explained, annual repayments may be determined on the basis of average county yields of certain basic crops. "This is considered especially important during the first few years of the loan," Mr. Hayes said. "Later, the client's accumulated livestock and cash reserves would be available to tide him over the lean years but a crop failure during the early period of his loan might spell failure."

Total of 471 Acres All told, the five Lee county loan clients are purchasing a total of 471.32 acres of farm land. Not only are they preparing to raise crops and livestock but they expect to begin adding improvements. Building and fences will be repaired and steps taken to improve soil fertility. Crop rotation systems will be established and fertilizer used where needed.

All of these activities, the rehabilitation supervisor explained, are provided for in the farm and home management plans set up with the aid of the county rehabilitation and home supervisors. These plans emphasize diversification, home food production and a system of farming that will make for satisfactory living standards and permanent security rather than high cash income.

Ogle County Farm Bureau Chorus to Present Festival

The Ogle County Farm Bureau chorus will give its County Music Festival at the Oregon community high school, Thursday evening, August 11. They will sing the cantata, "Harvest Caravans," by Russell Hancock Miles, a composition which the chorus has been practicing since the first of May. Following the County Festival, they will join with about forty other county choruses to sing at the Illinois State Fair.

The director of the Ogle county chorus is Lloyd W. Pfoff of Byron who has developed a musical organization of this group of sixty voices that is able to give a very excellent performance. The pianist for the group is Mrs. May McCracken and assistant pianist is Miss Lois Carpenter.

The chorus is under the supervision of the Ogle County Farm Bureau with a committee in charge consisting of Mrs. Harlow Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wragg, Mrs. McCracken, Fred Borneman, and Herschel Hopkins.

This project of the Farm Bureau is aimed to give an opportunity for those interested in music to receive training as well as recreation. The public is invited to enjoy the result of the hard work that this group has given to the project.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER TO POULTRY RAISERS

Most farmers, particularly in the Middle West, often say, "I wonder how much we actually make on chickens? Is poultry really profitable?"

Farmers on the east coast know it is.

In a section known as the Delaware cape there are between twenty-five to thirty million chickens. The baby chicks—trainloads of them—are shipped in from New England and the feed is shipped in from the Middle West.

More chickens are being raised in this section all the time, with no signs of any let-up. The government report, issued July 1, shows that the South Atlantic states have ordered for delivery in July or later eight times as many chicks as they did a year ago. It's possible they are expanding too fast.

But they are still making money, even with their feed cost twice as high as it is out here. They know to a penny how much it costs them to produce a pound of poultry.

I sometimes wonder if we do. Knows His Cost of Production Yesterday, down in Milan, Mo., I talked with a man who had 1150 chickens ready to sell. He got them this spring from an Iowa hatchery and has kept a record on them. He knows how much his chicks cost, and he has charged against them every bit of expense, including the feed (he had to buy every pound of it) and the labor.

His total expense so far has been $558—or about 48 cents apiece. He has some birds that weigh six pounds and they will average 4½ pounds. Next week he is going to sell them. You know what 4½-pound chickens are worth. So you can figure just how much his profit it will be.

Makes $300 in Three Months A man out in Iowa, who got 975 chicks April 1, says that three months later he had 33 cents in each chicken, including the cost of the chicks, feed, oil, depreciation, etc.

His heaviest bird weighed 5½ pounds and the flock averaged 4½ pounds. He figured he had made over $300 profit up to that time. I don't know any other crop that will give you as quick a return on the money you invest and at the same time, pay you such high dividends.

It wasn't long ago that I heard a produce man telling a group of farmers about how his poultry production on the east coast is affecting the market for our chickens. "But," he said, "out here in the Middle West, where we have our own grains, we can produce poultry for less money than they can—if we watch our costs."

These two men I mentioned know how much it is costing them to produce a pound of poultry. Is it costing you more—or less?

Sincerely yours, Frank Pribe

AAA PROPOSALS PROVE FUTILE; WHEAT PROBLEM

Grain Traders Baffled by Steady Sinking of the Market

Chicago, July 26—(AP)—The wheat market, sinking despite strong medicine in the new government farm program, had the grain trade baffled today.

Wheat prices have declined to the lowest point since April, 1933, in the face of Federal proposals intended to give farmers a "fair" price. The inopportune setback has caught wheat farmers in the midst of harvesting.

New wheat for delivery here by the end of summer is quoted around 68 cents a bushel compared with $1.16 a year ago. Except for 1931 and 1932, when the price fell as far as 46 cents, September wheat has not been this low in July since early in the century. In 1917 it sold as high as $2.34 and in 1929 it was up to $1.51.

Grain traders now are estimating the market value of the huge 1938 crop, the second largest in history, at around $650,000,000 compared with almost a billion dollars in 1937.

The Living Soil

... Its Modern Care

By CHARLES H. SALT

Director, The Living Soil Institute.

Next winter when the seed and nursery catalogs begin to arrive, if you are a normal gardener, you will have a serious attack of gardening fever. Such a spell is oftentimes cured for many of us, however, by a glance at our bank balance. However, you may have "Perennials on your budget" by sowing seeds in midsummer. Set out in your garden this fall many of these resulting plants will bloom next season.

On the average home grounds there is commonly a small area which is not being used. Unless conditions are extremely conducive to plant growth, such a spot may be put to this good use. Cold frames or hot beds, idle during the summer months, come in handy for this purpose. Sowing the seeds is no different in the case of such a planting than under actual garden conditions. A light sandy loam soil is best for seed germination and seedling growth. If in a cold frame, the soil level should be several inches higher than outside to insure perfect drainage. The seeds are covered lightly with soil or peat moss and watered with a fine spray. Frequent watering will be necessary for the soil naturally dries out more rapidly under summer conditions.

Special protection from the sun and heavy rain must be provided. This is conveniently done by making a lattice-like frame of building lath. By spacing the lath several inches each way, the best protection will be provided. Cloth and burlap tacked to a frame is also frequently used.

When the young plants become crowded a few of them may be transplanted. In removing these plants take care to disturb as little as possible the ones you wish to remain.

Small perennial plants should be set out as soon after September 1 as possible providing the seedlings are large enough. Thus they will become well established before winter sets in. During these off-season months these plants need special protection against freezing and thawing. A mulch of straw, salt hay or similar loose material is best.

TO MAKE PROGRESS DAIRYMEN FOLLOW COMPLETE PROGRAM

Progress in developing a herd of high-producing dairy cattle is dependent upon many factors such as wise feeding, disease prevention and control, good management and a constructive breeding program, according to J. G. Cash, of the dairy department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

That continuous record keeping is a further aid in improving Illinois dairy herds is shown by results obtained on 64 herds that last year finished 10 years of continuous testing in dairy herd improvement associations, Rhode said.

In general a definite improvement was shown with an average gain in production during the period of 37.6 pounds of butterfat a cow. However, a study of the individual herd records shows that unless all the factors that affect dairy herd progress are carried along together, the benefits that normally result from using production records may not be realized and a large part of the dairyman's life may be spent in correcting mistakes.

For example, despite the average increased production of 37.6 pounds of butterfat a cow for the entire 64 herds, 16 of the herds had a lower level of production in 1937 than they had 10 or more years earlier. Disease and herd sires that transmitted low levels of production were responsible for the lack of progress in most instances.

One herd finished the first testing year in 1926 with an average of 316 pounds of butterfat a cow which was increased through culling and breeding to a peak average production of 356 pounds in 1933. A herd sire started the downward trend, his daughters averaging 366 pounds as compared with 385 for their dams. The 1937 average for the herd was only 244 pounds of butterfat a cow. Much of this decrease was attributed to another sire whose daughters averaged 299 pounds of fat as compared with 388 pounds for their dams.

To make progress and hold gains, dairymen have learned to follow a complete program. Cash pointed out. To prevent production losses caused by the use of poor sires, dairy farmers throughout Illinois in cooperation with the extension service of the College of Agriculture have organized 39 cooperating breeding associations.

Two formulas for whitewash are given by Foster. For new masonry work which has never had a whitewash application he recommends 2 1-2 gallons of mason's lime hydrated in paper bags; 2 gallons of cement, Atlas white; 2 1-2 gallons of saldsoda; 2 pound of salt and 3 pounds of powdered alum. This will give a pure white. A grayish white may be had by using regular Portland cement in place of Atlas.

The materials are mixed dry, and soft, cold water is added with the mixture stirred well until 5 gallons of paste is made. It is well to stir the mixture constantly and apply it at once with a brush or spray.

To assure a perfect bond on an old wall, it is best to clean off loose particles of old whitewash coating with a wire brush. The formula for an old wall is 2 1-2 gallons of finishing lime or mason's lime; 2 1-2 gallons of cement; 1 pound of saldsoda; 1 pound of salt and 2 pounds of powdered alum. The alum aids in preventing the whitewash from rubbing off.

MR. ROOSEVELT TURNS REPORT- ER FOR A DAY

Writes Account of His Fishing Activities off
Albemarle

San Francisco, July 26—(AP)—President Roosevelt turned reporter and wrote for the nation's newspaper readers, but to the U. S. naval radio it was just "routine."

No reporters are accompanying the President on his cruise in the Pacific ocean aboard the cruiser Houston. His secretary, Stephen Early, has been writing the stories for America's press. They are transmitted by naval radio to San Francisco where they are handed out twice a day to newspaper representatives.

But the strain of being initiated into a "shellback," showing he had crossed the Equator, proved too much for Early yesterday, and Roosevelt wrote the story.

The naval radio's press "hand-out" last night was labeled "From President U. S. and Party. Routine."

Here it is, just as the President wrote it:

Here's His Story
The cruiser Houston late today anchored for an overnight stay off the west coast of Albemarle island, largest member of the Galapagos group. It was a one hundred percent shellback ship.

King Neptune with Davy Jones and his royal court boarded early in the morning while the Houston was on its way from San Salvador island to Albemarle. President Roosevelt and the shellback members of his party spent the forenoon on the communication platform looking down upon the quarter deck where King Neptune presided over the initiation of pollywogs, more than 300 of whom were given "the royal works."

The former pollywog members of the President's party have all survived, but while they are recuperating, this dispatch is being sent, not by Mr. Early but by the senior shellback himself.

Off to Fish
As soon as the ship's anchor dropped, the President was off in a small boat to survey the island's shores and to fish. Fish were plentiful—so numerous that he soon lay aside his heavy rod and returned to the shallow waters close shore in quest of little fish. These ran in unusually large schools and were of many kinds. He used a light rod usually reserved for trout fishing.

The weather was clear with few scattered low clouds in the late evening and early morning. Visibility 20 miles. Surface winds southerly 14 to 18 miles—sea choppy on the windward side of islands and smooth on the other. Temperatures ranged from 64 to 74 degrees.

State Hospital

BY G. E. PHILLIPS
A miniature replica of the Dixon state hospital grounds constructed to scale is now nearing completion in the occupational therapy department. The exhibit when completed will be exhibited at the state fair at Springfield in August. It has been prepared under the supervision of Allen Cathey, assisted by several patients. Legends affixed to each building will describe the model and what it is used for. Besides, Mr. Cathey, Mr. Wimpelberg, Mr. Tite and Mr. Eisman all contributed to the creation of the model.

Dr. B. D. Hart has returned from his vacation in northern Wisconsin. According to the Cottage Visitor the fish up there didn't like the doctor's bait.

The latter part of this month five employees of the Dixon state hospital will entrain for the annual encampment of the Illinois National Guard at Rockford. Three of the five, Captain August Wimpelberg, Otto Peterson and Z. S. Bidzinski, are from a company of Dixon, Leon Alake from the company at Keokuk and Dr. G. W. ## "NO MEN" JURY'S VERDICT GIVES IRENE HER JOB

Hollywood, July 26—(AP)—Her glass slippers are a pair of ice skates . . . her Prince Charming is a tough-skinned movie producer . . . and Irene Dare is another Cinderella . . . at the age of 6.

She didn't know her luck today as she light-heartedly practiced ballet on a frozen rink. But in a hot studio projection room a jury of "no men" returned a verdict momentous for her career.

The "no men" are a unique institution at Principal Productions, Inc., where shrewd Sol Lesser is the big boss. They are his way of learning in advance what the public likes.

He had a new picture to edit, so he called them in haphazardly—two stenographers, an office boy, a janitor, a telephone girl, a gardener. "You are fans," he explained. "What you say goes."

As they bustled into their seats, the lights went off and a movie unreeled. It was called "Breaking the Ice" and presumably it starred Bobby Breen, the boy soprano. But there was Irene on her silver skates.

For nearly 10 minutes—aeons as reckoned by movie time—she danced.

When the scene ended, Lesser asked two questions. "Isn't it too long? Doesn't it hold up the party?"

The jurors, to a man, said: "No."
When Irene was 3, her mother, Mrs. Viola Davidson, wife of Harry Davidson, St. Paul newspaper engraver, looked in a theatrical directory to pick out a career for her daughter.

Apparently there was only one field not overcrowded—ice skating.

Lewis Packs House for Debut on Stage

Cohasset, Mass., July 26—(AP)—Sinclair Lewis' debut as an actor in one of his own plays has put the S. R. O. sign on the door of Cohasset's summer theatre.

It was a new triumph for the Nobel prize winning novelist, who chose the role of the small town Vermont editor in "It Can't Happen Here" for his initial appearance last night as a professional actor. The town hall was packed, applause was generous and the critics were kind.

The week's sellout—a new experience for this south shore summer theatre—made it likely that the novelist actor would play a return engagement later in the season.

Commonwealth-Edison is Refinancing

Chicago, July 26—(AP)—Commonwealth Edison Company, which serves the Chicago area with power, today initiated the second phase of its huge refunding program involving issuance of an additional $73,000,000 in securities.

Petitions were filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to issue $33,000,000 additional first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds, due 1968, and $39,241,595 or more addition convertible debentures, 3½ per cent due 1958.

Last month the company sold $33,000,000 of new 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds at $102.25 and $39,083,195 of 3½ per cent convertible debentures.

Brain Twizzlers

By
PROF. J. D. FLINT

The floor-walker in a large department store watched the moving stairways (escalators to you) so long one day that they developed a strange fascination for him. At the close of the day he decided to experiment. He pushed a switch near the stairs and stopped them. Then he found that he could go up the short flight in five strides. Next he started the stairs moving again, toward him, and found that for every three strides up he was carried back two. At this rate how many strides did it take him to get to the top?

All Workers Must Have Job Numbers

Chicago, July 26—(AP)—Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, said today every employed person in Illinois who is without a social security number must apply for one by August 7.

Persons who obtain employment after August 7 and have no numbers must apply for them within seven days after securing employment. Durkin announced. Employers are required to list the worker's social security account number when they report the worker's wages to the unemployment compensation division.

Durkin said unless social security account numbers are available, "it will be difficult for the state to protect the worker by keeping a complete record of his earnings." All workers, including those over 65, need social security account numbers to establish their wages for job insurance.

DENNIS F. KELLY

Dennis F. Kelly of Chicago, who died Saturday in Bergen, Norway, was one of Chicago's leading business men, whose life should be an inspiration to the youth of today.

His father was a brick maker who later operated a store. As a boy he attended a parochial school. His formal education, however, was meager.

When 11 years old he walked into Mandel Brothers store and asked what the salary of the manager was. Informed it was $10,000, he said he would like to have a job and work up to that place. He was given a place as cash boy at $2 a week.

Later one of the Mandels made him an office boy. When he was 17 he was placed in charge of all boys and at 20 he was store superintendent. His progress in the organization was uninterrupted. In 1901 he had his earliest ambition. He was made manager and continued in the post until 1923, when he transferred his allegiance to the Fair.

He became president of that store in 1925. In announcing his retirement last spring he outlined a little of his business philosophy.

"There is no fun like work," he said. "I borrowed that from Gordon Selfridge of London (a foremost English merchant). I shall continue as a director and keep an office."

He gave up none of his outside activities. He said, indeed, that he would now have more time to give to them.

"I wouldn't want to become a joiner, looking for jobs," he said modestly, "but when the occasion for service to my city arises, I am here to give that service. I was born here, I have lived here all my life. It is my city. No man who has been really busy should ever give up entirely."

HE GAVE CHILDREN THE OPPORTUNITY TO LIVE

The public playground is so common a feature of the modern city that it is hard to realize that it is still a fairly youthful institution. It is actually only a little more than one generation since the first playgrounds were established.

This is called to mind by the fact that July 28 has been designated "National Joseph Lee Day" by the National Recreation Association, with the indorsement of President Roosevelt. And if you don't know who Joseph Lee was, it might be worth your while to find out.

Joseph Lee was a wealthy Bostonian, the son of an aristocratic banker. Graduating from Harvard in the 1880's, he decided that he had all the money he would ever need and that he would devote his life and his fortune to the promotion of play and recreation.

He came to this decision in an odd way. He read in his paper, one day, about a group of Boston boys being arrested for playing in the streets. It was an everyday occurrence, of course; but, as he said, "To me it was as if those boys had been arrested for living." So he decided to do something about it.

Do something he did; and that "something" was a driving, unceasing campaign to persuade people to provide play space for children. He made an elaborate study of the causes of juvenile delinquency, helped develop a model playground in Boston, helped to organize the Playground Association of America, devoted years of his life to its service—and, all in all, gave some $360,000 of his own money to further the cause.

It would be a great exaggeration, of course, to say that Joseph Lee was solely responsible for the development of the public playground. But it is indisputable that he was responsible in a very large part, and that a great many thousands of children have had decent room to play in which they would not have had if Joseph Lee had not lived.

We don't build monuments to men like that, or devote whole chapters of our history books to them. It might be a good thing if we did. For Joseph Lee's capacity for getting indignant over wrongs which were done—not to himself, but to other people—is one of the finest and most valuable traits the human race develops.

The industrial city of the late nineteenth century, with few parks and no playgrounds, with mile on mile of congested housing, inflicted a very great wrong on millions of people. It wasn't, directly, any of Joseph Lee's business; but because he had that priceless capacity for getting mad over somebody else's troubles, he made it his business—and did a great deal to right the wrong.

There are still, heaven knows, plenty of similar wrongs to be righted. They will get righted only as we develop and exercise that same capacity for selfless indignation.

WASHINGTON — Confidential surveys by Administration experts show that the abrupt rise of the stock market is somewhat faster than justified by reports of business upturn, though not to such extent as to cause alarm.

The number of men returning to work, and the increased output of factories are greater than was expected, and justify a slow, steady stock market upturn.

The market, however, has jumped ahead of the actual condition of business, and speculators are discounting the recovery expected in the future.

This illustrates what always happens with the stock market. It is always a month or two ahead of actual business developments. Thus, even before the business recession had set in, the stock market had taken a calamitous drop. And now, before actual recovery has set in, the market has taken a sudden rise.

Last autumn the drop of the stock market contributed to the recession, and now the rise of the market is contributing to recovery. It is a psychological factor.

The big mail-order houses have reported to government officials that in recent years this stock market influence has affected their business as it never did ten or fifteen years ago. Reason is that the radio carries news of stock market trading to almost every home in the nation.

Ten years ago nobody outside a few big cities knew what the stock market had done that day, and nobody cared. Stock market slumps had to be really bad before they affected the life of the nation. It took days, or even weeks, for stock market news to trickle into smaller towns.

Now, however it is a different matter. When there is panic selling on the New York exchange, the news is broadcast via every radio in the land, and the nation knows it that night. It has an instantaneous and tremendous psychological effect.

The reverse is true when the market has a big day.

Neither may reflect the actual business condition of the country. But because everyone is influenced by the stock market, eventually the market reports create better or worse business.

ROOSEVELT'S AMBITION

One of the most interesting press conferences ever held by Roosevelt was in the spring of 1933, when he outlined his economic aims.

He had on his desk a stack of charts, one of which showed the recent economic history of the United States, the peaks of prosperity and the valleys of depression.

Roosevelt told his press conference that it was his ambition to iron out those peaks and valleys with their attendant human suffering, so that the economic chart of the United States followed one straight line—slightly up perhaps, but as level as possible.

Instead, the economic chart of the New Deal has been as jagged as a tiger's jaw.

And for the reasons outlined above—instantaneous radio reports on the stock market—it may be that Roosevelt will never reach his cherished goal.

NEW ISSUE

A new issue has popped up in the red-hot Kentucky battle between Senator Alben Barkley and Governor "Happy" Chandler—the fine-tooth comb versus the harrow.

In one of his speeches Barkley remarked: "My opponent says there are many shortcomings in my record. I don't doubt that if my record was gone over with a fine-tooth comb, failings would show up in it. I am not infallible; everybody makes mistakes."

The next day Chandler replied: "Senator Barkley admits that if his record was gone over with a fine-tooth comb, shortcomings would be found in it. Friends, I say he flatters himself. I could find plenty of them with a harrow."

BRITISH BUSINESS

State Department career boys may approve of Prime Minister Chamberlain's hook-up with Mussolini against Loyalist Spain, but the President inferentially disagrees with them.

Talking to a friend at dinner not long ago, the President said:

"The trouble with the British is that they haven't one statesman who can make a speech on a moral issue."

Note—Prime Minister Chamberlain boasts that he is running a business man's government; that he has to deal with Franco because British capital is invested in Spanish mines.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Dad is wrong and I fear Russell may be right. Educating one generation does not increase the natural capacities of the next because that is educating the body cells, not the germ cells, and the germ cells carry all the heredity. But, on Russell's side, evidence is piling up that the unskilled and semi-skilled classes are having most of the children and these classes include a lesser proportion of persons of high intelligence and capacity for leadership than those in occupations requiring not only higher intelligence but better health and finer character. If this continues—and it depends on the intelligence of the skilled classes whether it does or not—it seems to meet Mrs. Ickes, when that auburn-haired lady declared:

"Oh, I remember you, Miss Detzer, though you have probably forgotten me. I came to you once looking for a job, and you turned me down."

REAL DIPLOMACY

When diplomats gathered in the Pan-American Union the other day to celebrate the signing of the Chaco peace agreement, cameramen asked for a picture of the Bolivian and Paraguayan diplomats shaking hands—with Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American Union, in the center.

"Look at each other and smile" directed a cameraman.

The diplomats obeyed, but Dr. Rowe was in a quandary. If he looked toward the Paraguayan, he might offend not only the Minister of Bolivia but the entire nation.

"But which way am I to look?" he said in perplexity.

"Just look straight ahead," said the cameraman.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Supreme Court Justice James McReynolds is spending part of his vacation in San Francisco, visiting with his brother, Dr. Robert P. McReynolds. Registering at a local hotel, the Justice merely signed J. C. McReynolds, Washington, D. C.

The AFL-CIO vendetta in California is so venomous that at its recent state convention the Federation endorsed Parson M. Abbott for the State Senate, despite the fact that he is an open anti-labor vigilante, because Robert W. Kenny, his opponent and a prominent pro-labor judge in Los Angeles, has been friendly to the CIO. A P. of L. also refused to approve Ellis Patterson, liberal candidate for Lieutenant Governor, for the same reason. Political observers rate both Kenny and Patterson as practically certain winners despite the AFL turn down.

Candidates Must

File Accounts in

Their Campaigns

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—Senator Sheppard (D-Tex) threatened today to make public the names of senatorial candidates who have failed to report their expenses to the campaign expenditures committee.

"If a candidate refuses to fill out our questionnaire, I believe the people in his state should know that fact," said Sheppard, committee chairman.

The senate committee will meet tomorrow to consider complaints of improper political practices in seven states: Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri, Georgia and North Dakota.

Committee investigators will report on inquires they have made in Kentucky, Tennessee and Pennsylvania. A suggestion for an investigation into expenditures in the Illinois primary was made yesterday by A. H. Greening of Springfield, Ill.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Dr. Maurice H. Krout, Chicago educator, has probed into the childhood recollections of large groups of radicals and conservatives, and finds that the radicals had most unhappy childhood recollections of being compelled to keep their faces washed while the conservatives did not recall any such unpleasant experiences. He thinks this is merely an indication of the general nagging and ridicule these people went through in childhood. He concluded that nagging and ridicule were more effective in making radicals than spanking. That would be my guess, too. If you want to ruin a child—

Answer to Question No. 3

3. The answer to this and similar questions may decide the future fate of America, according to Dr. Goodwin Watson, Columbia University psychologist. He contrasts labor's magnificent response to the appeal to serve high ideals in 1917—a service filled with adventure—with the present confusion and lack of broad national patriotism of labor's demands today. The same thing is true of employers.

In demanding security every person thinks solely of his own interests but in a program of adventure the individual fuses his interests with those of the nation.

URGES LAWYERS

TO FIGHT OUT

INTOLERANCE

Cleveland, July 26.—(AP)—Arthur T. Vanderbilt, president of the American Bar Association, called upon the nation's lawyers Monday to perfect the processes of justice as a bulwark against intolerance "which stalks the globe."

"We have reached the point where suggestions for concentrating one's opponents in Alaska are seriously advocated in open court by men claiming to carry the banner of democracy," Vanderbilt said in his annual address prepared for the 61st meeting of the association.

Vanderbilt presumably referred to the recent testimony of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.

"Intolerance stalks the globe," Vanderbilt continued. "The entire world seems to be dividing into two classes, one believing that whatever is, is right, the other that whatever is, is wrong."

"Reason and common sense seem to be in danger of being crushed between the upper and nether millstones of conservatism, so-called, and of liberalism, so-called. Some leaders in public life seem to be unable to distinguish between freedom of speech, freedom of the press and the right of lawful assembly on the one side and treason to government on the other."

Lawyers poured into Cleveland during the week-end to attend the five-day session of the association and its committees.

The National Association of Women Lawyers adopted a resolution urging the appointment of U. S. Circuit Judge Florence E. Allen of Ohio to the United States Supreme Court.

Husband of Girl of

13 to State Farm

Murphysboro, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—The parents of 13-year-old Gladys Brumley sought today to have her marriage to a 21-year-old Franklin county youth annulled while the girl's husband began a one year sentence in the Vandallia state penal farm.

The youth, Thomas Overton, pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor when arraigned before County Judge Fred B. Herbert.

Overton said he took the girl to Jackson, Mo., last Friday "because I knew we couldn't get married in Illinois."

The court paroled the child bride to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brumley of Carbondale, Ill., who said they would seek an annulment. Gladys and her husband were arrested at Christopher, Ill., a few hours after they were married.

Rajah Turns Cold

Shoulder on Baba

Hollywood, July 26.—(AP)—Far away in London the white Rajah of Sarawak has turned a very cold shoulder on his youngest daughter, blonde Princess Baba.

He said she was not a princess but a plain wrestler's wife.

But Baba—Mrs. Bob Gregory—wondered aloud today if the Rajah's feelings might change were he to know he is to become a grandfather in December.

"Yes, we're going to be a three-some, Bob and I," she said "though I suppose it wouldn't make any difference to my family. I wasn't one to stay at home until a marriage with some moth-eaten duke was arranged."

8 YEARS AGO

These two old enemies do this sort of thing about once in so often—looking for possible weakness—on the theory strongly held in both capitals that a Russo-Japanese war is inevitable sooner or later.

The latest bit of sparring revolved about the occupation by Russian troops of a piece of ground claimed by both the Soviet and Manchoukuo. It was asserted the Muscovites were fortifying this hill.

Japan, as overlord of Manchoukuo, promptly told Moscow in doggy language to get off that lot—or else. Soviet Foreign Minister Litvinoff responded in almost so many words that Japan might scare others but couldn't get away with big-stick stuff in dealing with Russia.

That's where the matter stands now—with Japan denying and intention of pressing the dispute. Each country is busy assaying the results of this clash to see if there's any information worth while in it.

So far as the disputed zone is concerned, neither country would fight over its actual value. It may be worth a bit more than a township site in the Sahara desert. However, it would furnish ample cause for war if the two countries decided the time had arrived for a trial at arms.

McGuire-Swain Rites Solemnized at St. Louis University

Miss Anne McGuire of this city was her sister's only attendant when Miss Helen Marie McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of Deer Grove, and Harry Joseph Swain, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., pledged nuptial vows Wednesday morning, July 20, in the chapel of St. Louis university. The Rev. Theodore Schulte, S. J., faculty member of Regis college, Denver, Colo., performed the ceremony and read the nuptial mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white marquisette over taffeta, with tanger-tie veil. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Her sister chose blue mousseline de soie, with a blue and yellow taffeta sash. A natural colored leghorn hat with chiffon streamers completed her costume, and she carried yellow roses and blue delphinium.

A wedding breakfast was served in the French room of the Coronado hotel. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Swain left on a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco. Late in August, they will be at home at 2024 Bland Place, Maplewood, St. Louis county.

Mrs. Swain was graduated from Sterling Catholic Community high school in 1924, and was an honor student of her class. As Big Guns of U. S. Navy Boomed a Salute to the Chief

With smoke still rising from the guns of three huge battleships this picture shows the U. S. S. Houston, with President Roosevelt aboard, cruising in review to receive the navy's 21-gun salute to the chief. This pageant of naval might, staged in San Francisco Bay, was the most spectacular review the Pacific coast had seen in many years. The three vessels in the foreground, in addition to the Houston, are the battleships Pennsylvania, Idaho, and Nevada. Riding at anchor in the background are four lines of 60 fighting boats. After passing the battleships, the Houston, with the President's flag flying from the mast, swung to the left and then circled the fleet.

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—An inquest into the slaying of Nick Chiaromonte, 56, was continued today until Aug. 3 to permit further police investigation.

A son, Salvatore Chiaromonte, 32, of (1939 N. Bartlett) Milwaukee, testified that to his knowledge his father had never been threatened and had no quarrels.

The elder Chiaromonte, a wholesale watermelon dealer, was called to the side of an automobile parked near his home Sunday and shot down after talking a few moments with persons in the car which sped away.

Police investigators said they had not uncovered evidence to support their first theory it was an extortion slaying.

Sergt. Louis Possel, who lives next door to the Chiaromonte home and had known the victim for years, testified Chiaromonte was a good family man and had a good reputation.

Court of Appeals Interrupts recess

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—The plea of a prisoner charged with violating his parole from an Illinois prison brought the United States Court of Appeals into session here—the first time in its history the court has interrupted its summer recess.

Chief Justice D. Lawrence Groner called the session yesterday so William Reed, 34, arrested on a 13-year-old warrant, would not have to wait several months for a decision on his appeal from a district court ruling denying him a writ of habeas corpus to prevent his extradition to Illinois.

Reed's attorneys claimed the parole was not violated when he was allowed to go from one state to another. The court was expected to announce its decision this week.

FRIENDS, FOES AT RITES
Colorado Springs, July 26.—(AP)—Friends and foe gathered with John L. Lewis for the funeral today of Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union who died Thursday. Heading a list of I. T. U. leaders was Claude M. Baker, San Francisco, American Federation of Labor man who defeated Howard for the union presidency. Others included Woodruff Randolph of Indianapolis, secretary treasurer.

What's Wrong Here? Does Cute Cyclist Flout Gravity?

Here's a picture that has everybody guessing—and arguing. Is this fair cyclist coasting uphill in defiance of all the laws of gravity? Certainly appears so, doesn't it? Or are you wrong? Yes, you're wrong. The picture was taken on Maine's famous upside-down hill at Wilton, where things are not what they seem. Actually Esther Washauk is gliding downhill in the regular and prescribed manner, and Sir Isaac Newton and his apple were not in error after all. It's all an optical illusion. The hill is famous all over New England and many motorists go there to "coast uphill."

Zunk! And a Swimmer Is 'Launched'

Boats get launched by having a bottle of bubbly crashed over their heads. So why not long-distance swimmers? At least these Venice, Calif., bathing beauties thought it a good idea, and here one of them bops the brow of Paul Chotteau with a flagon of giggle-water as he trains to break his own mark of 44 miles in 33 hours. When he gets over the shock he'll swim 56 miles from Santa Barbara Island to Venice. Oh, yes! Left to right are Margaret Thornburgh, Cleo Hughes, Chotteau, Pat Perry and Pat Green.

Rich Pine Stands Menaced by Blaze

Bend, Ore., July 26.—(AP)—A raging grass, brush and virgin timber fire on the Warm Springs Indian reservation spread over 100,000 acres today and menaced rich pine stands and wheat lands. Frank Stratton and Alden Williams, who flew over the area, said the fire was uncontrolled on the southwest front. The flames had swept up the Deshughes river, past the Indian agency, into Seekseekqua and Shitike creeks to the Metolus river bench.

Corrigan Changes Mind About Offers

London, July 26.—(AP)—Douglas G. Corrigan apparently has changed his mind about money-making offers from the United States.

"When I get back," the young transatlantic flier said today, "I am going to take the best job offered—movies, vaudeville, newspapers, anything."

But he is planning a two weeks' tour first.

"There will be a couple of days in New York," he said. "Two days, because the boys in Brooklyn seem to want to have a parade as well as the guys in New York; then Boston, then down south to Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington."

He plans also to visit Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio ("where I was stationed six years"), Norfolk, Virginia ("if I can make it"), Galveston ("where I was born"), then Los Angeles, San Francisco and "on my way back" St. Louis ("where my plane was built").

Corrigan said he would attend the Cleveland air races, but not as a competitor.

Flaming Workman Leaps to Death

Olney, Ill., July 2.—(AP)—His clothing enveloped in flames, Robert Woods, 23, leaped from a 60-foot oil derrick to his death last night when the Pyramid Oil Company's No. 2 well caught fire.

The well was being completed when it ignited. Flames shot from the derrick floor and enveloped Woods, who was working on the top part of the derrick. A large part of the steel structure was melted.

The fire was extinguished after approximately $10,000 damage had been caused. Company officials said they believed the well itself was not badly damaged. The cause of the fire had not been determined.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY NELSON C. NYE

THE STORY SO FAR

A net is tightening around the Rafter T. Going by the name of "Streeter," "Blur" Ankrom takes a job there to help lovely Lee Trone. Betty Struthers gets on the ranch under false pretenses. She makes a play for Ankrom which puts him in bad with Lee. Rafterford, the sheriff, tells Ankrom that Claydell, a neighboring rancher, wants the Trones' land because a railroad is going through. Then Heffle, a sheepman, jumps the water tank.

Chapter 22 Speeding Up

This thing was bad, thought Ankrom, and would be worse. Whether ancient animosities, jealousy of water rights, or a railroad and the prospect of a future town lay behind this web, he had no means of knowing. But of one thing he was certain: things were speeding up and Trone needed him—a powder-smoke showdown could not be far away. These men against Trone were dangerous, and their next move might well be directed at himself.

He looked at Trone and saw the old man lift a shaking bottle to his lips. When the bottle was empty Trone hurled it from him with a muttered oath. Ankrom's lips curled a little. This old hellion, he thought, is trying to bolster up his shattered nerves.

Trone glared at Ring-Legs wildly. "Say that again."

"Then fellas," the puncher growled, "saw there's been a mistake in boundary lines. They claim we been hoggin' too much land. They say that tank ain't on our land at all. They been given orders to string a fence that'll keep our cattle away from it. An' Boone Heffle give 'em orders."

"Boone Heffle!" Trone whispered the name and licked his lips. His courage seemed to be ebbing swiftly.

"You made a mistake lettin' that sheepman live," said Ring-Legs. "When you was fightin' Rafterford's father an' them others years ago you oughta tromped the bunch of 'em underground—partic'lar Heffle!"

"But Heffle was on my side," Trone protested. "Why should he be strikin' at me now after all these years?"

"The Heffles of this world ain't on nobody's side but the man that's payin' the highest!" the bowlegged puncher snarled. "It's plainier sin at the crossroads that this Heffle snake's been bought!"

The clump of boots turned Ankrom's glance. He saw Rafterford and Lee come running toward them. When they came up Rafterford shoved his burly frame to the front, grasped the puncher by the shoulder and whirled him around. "What's up?"

"Boone Heffle's jumped the tank an' cabin at our southwest line camp!"

I'm the Law

Rafterford released his grip and swung on Trone. "Jumped your tank, has he? Well, I'm here to say he hasn't. The tank an' cabin at your southwest line ain't on your ground, an' you know it. You've been squatin' on that government land, for twenty years—but that don't make it yours!"

Trone opened his mouth, but Rafterford's voice came first: "Let's see your patent to that land."

Ankrom saw the color wash from Trone's cheeks; he seemed to shrink under the impact of the sheriff's words. But not Ring-Legs. "Spreadin' it thick won't buy yuh nothin'," he jeered. "You jest watch how long Heffle stays there, Mister—"

"He'll stay there as long as he damn well please!" Rafterford's heavy voice rode through the puncher's words like a knife through cheese. "I'm the law around these parts an' I say Heffle's in the right. I've looked his title up an' it's good as gold. You pull any rough stuff out there an' you neck square up against the law!"

"Says you!" Trone sneered, making an effort to pull himself together. But he was not the man he had been twenty years ago—not the man who had torn this range from the grasp of its former owners.

"You heard me!"

Ankrom drawled, "What you figurin' to do about this, Trone?"

"Do? Streeter, you go down there an' run them water pirates off!"

"F he does, this country'll be too damn hot to hold him!" said Rafterford threateningly.

All the worry, all the agony and doubts and strivings for peace of two long years in Ankrom's life were swept aside in the surge of his hatred for this blustering sheriff. There still was about this business much he did not grasp, but one thing he saw with vivid clarity. The hand at the helm of Rafter T had been idle too long. Swift action was a necessity.

"Sort of anticipatin', ain't you, Rafterford? I'd say offhand you were right smart of an optimist countin' chicks before they've hatched." His glance ran up and down the sheriff's form contemptuously. "You can't run a sandy like that on us."

Like a Cracking Whip Ankrom gave no ground. "That'll be just eight hours too late," he said.

The sheriff's face went purple with rage: "It may be too late to do Heffle any good, but it'll leave ample time to settle your account!"

"You haven't got the guts to settle my account."

"Haven't got the—why, you dry-gulchin' killer—"

That was as far as Rafterford got. Ankrom's fist smashed hard against the sheriff's lips with a force that sent him sprawling. He got up, one hand tugging at the shoulder-holstered pistol beneath his coat.

Ankrom's posture did not change until the weapon came in sight. Then his hand went snapping down. Like a cracking whip his gun sprang clear of leather; spat!

Tensely, and with bulging eyes in a face gone white, Tom Rafterford stared stupidly at the numbed fingers of his shaking hand. His gun was in the sand a good eight feet away, its mechanism jammed by Ankrom's lead.

"You was sayin' sheriff?"

Rafterford's lids dropped, but not before Ankrom had seen the new caution flooding their smoky depths. The words he spoke came through clenched teeth.

"You take this trick, Streeter—but some other gent'll be draggin' in the next. If you ain't fannin' dust inside two hours, I'll see that you're strung up for the killin' of Kelton Drenn!"

Ankrom's laugh mocked the sheriff. Fannin' it toward that bunch of thievin' sheepmen. Next time you try throwin' down on a man you better have your gun in hand an' make sure he isn't lookin'."

Spinning round on his heel Ankrom set off toward the corral.

Lee Trone called "Abe!"

Ankrom continued on his way without sign of having heard.

Weirton Steel Co. Must Get New Atty.

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—The labor relations board today gave the Weirton Steel Company a month to find a new counsel to replace Clyde A. Armstrong, barred by the board from defending Weirton against charges of unfair labor practices.

Armstrong had been ousted from the case for "contemptuous conduct" before trial examiner Edward G. Smith at Steubenville, Ohio, July 11.

The board upheld Smith's action yesterday, contending that Armstrong's behavior in a dispute over testimony of a steel company witness reflected "a calculated attempt to wrest control of the hearing from the board's duly designated agent."

Armstrong was expected to make a court appeal from the board's order.

The board said it would not resume taking testimony in the Weirton case until August 24 "to enable respondent (Weirton) to retain other counsel or otherwise prepare to resume the presentation of its defense."

ROOSEVELTIANS IN SIX STATES FACE CONTESTS

Early August Primaries Will Test Leadership of President

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—Democratic candidates in six states launched into their final campaigning this week before early-August primaries testing President Roosevelt's party leadership as well as their own vote-drawing power.

A week from today—August 2—primary elections will take place in Kansas, Missouri, Virginia and West Virginia. Two days later Tennessee Democrats will pick their candidates, and August 6 will come the bitterly contested Kentucky primary.

In no other intra-party race has the administration so large a stake in prestige as in Kentucky, where Senate Leader Alben W. Barkley is opposed for renomination by Governor A. B. Chandler.

Roosevelt made a direct appeal early in July for Barkley's renomination and reelection. His experience, he said, was needed in Washington.

Only national house members and state officials are up for nomination in the Virginias.

Sen. Clark Opposed

In Missouri, Senator Bennett Champ Clark, who hasn't by any means gone the whole way with Roosevelt, is up for renomination. His opponents include two men who call themselves "100 percent New Dealers"—Willis H. Meredith, former speaker of the Missouri house, and Joseph T. Davis, St. Louis attorney.

In Kansas, Senator George McGill, a staunch Roosevelt supporter, is seeking renomination. His only Democratic opponent, Joe Dohner, filed at the last minute.

The Kansas Republican primary took on a measure of national importance when Chairman John Hamilton asked party voters not to nominate the Rev. Gerald Winrod for Senator. Winrod was accused recently by nine Kansas ministers of Nazi and fascist sympathies.

Other Republican candidates are Clyde M. Reed, former governor; Dallas Knapp, former state senator; and the Rev. J. C. Fisher.

In Tennessee the issue of state control of the Democratic party overshadowed all other questions. The forces of E. H. Crump, Memphis political leader, and Senator K. O. McKellar are lined up against those of Governor Gordon Browning, who is seeking renomination.

THIRD TERM BOOM?

Washington, July 26.—(AP)—Capital politicians wondered today if Secretary Ickes were hinting at a third term race for President Roosevelt when he said:

"If the reactionaries in the Democratic party want a real test of President Roosevelt's strength with the people, I suggest that they continue to work for a situation that will result in the people being given an opportunity to vote directly on the proposition of whether or not they are for President Roosevelt and his policies."

"There can hardly be any doubt what the answer of the people would be."

Ickes made those statements last night in a talk on current events, substituting for a radio news commentator. He did not mention the 1940 presidential contest directly.

Senator Pepper D. Fla. said in an interview that he believed the President does not desire a third term.

Pepper, a Roosevelt supporter, expressed the opinion that the "salvation" of the Democratic party lies in a coalition of liberals of the west and south to carry out the President's policies.

HAMILTON AT SALEM

Salem, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee asserted today that another war would bring the United States "under as rigid a dictatorship as the world has ever seen."

"It would be very doubtful," he said in an address prepared for the 55th annual Marion county soldiers and sailors' reunion, "if we should be able to get rid of such a regime after the conflict is over."

Hamilton urged that Americans "not be diverted from the pressing problems at home," adding that this country "has no duty to police the world." He continued:

"If there is one question on which the people of this country are more nearly united than on any other, it is on the proposition that America does not wish to have any part in the wars of Europe or Asia—nor does it wish any part in the wars of fascism, communism, or any other alien 'ism.'"

Heart arterial diseases, pneumonia and tuberculosis, in the order named, are the three greatest causes of death in Japan.

HOLY LAND WAR-FARE CONTINUES UNABATED TODAY

Haifa, Palestine, July 26.—(AP)—Five persons were killed today in the Holy Land's Arab-Jewish racial warfare which took 65 lives in Haifa yesterday.

Greater loss of life was averted when police found a time bomb in the crowded Arab vegetable market of old Jerusalem just in time to prevent an explosion.

The heavily-charged bomb was discovered by authorities at 8:45 A. M. just 15 minutes before it was set to explode. Police expressed the belief the bomb was similar to the one which exploded in the Haifa market yesterday.

Three members of a terrorist band were slain in a battle with special constables whom they had attacked.

A Jewish father and his 14-year-old son were killed when they were ambushed near the Jewish settlement of Mishmar Hayarden on the banks of the Jordan river near the Syrian frontier.

Heavy smoke arising from incendiary fires in the mixed quarters of Haifa cast a pall over the city as the death toll of yesterday's bombing mounted.

Casualties were placed at 65 dead and 107 wounded. Sixty-one of the victims were Arabs and four were Jews.

The city was gripped by fear of Arab retaliation.

Concerted Arab attacks on the Jewish populace were prevented by British marines standing guard with mounted light artillery at the boundaries of Arab-Jewish quarters.

Guns of the battle cruiser Repulse were trained on the lower section of Haifa, while marines, soldiers and police patrolled the disturbed areas in armored cars.

INDIANS DAMAGED IN PENNANT RACE BY EASTERN RAIN

Believe Troubles Are Ahead When Tribe
Returns East

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Like the crops, the roads and the amusement park business, the pennant hopes of the Cleveland Indians suffered severe damage from last week's prolonged rainy spell in the east. In fact, there's a strong belief in some quarters that the Tribe was rained right out of the American League pennant.

The Indians are only a game behind the league-leading New York Yankees as they open at home today after remaining over in Boston an extra day to divide a final doubleheader with the Red Sox. They may even regain the lead at home, but when they go east again, there's bound to be trouble.

Were Doing Well
Cleveland was doing right well when the deluge started. The Indians had beaten the Yanks in the opener of a "crucial" series and were confident they could take the league leaders and Boston as well. As it was they got an even break in ten games in the east, better than any other western team except Chicago could do. But the three games at New York which they figured would put them on top again were rained out and they lost two of three to the Red Sox.

Yesterday's belated windup served to illustrate the troubles ahead for the tribe.

Johnny Allen and Mel Harder did the pitching—they've been doing practically all the good flinging the Indians have had lately. Allen was beaten, 4-0, when Rookie Emerson Dickman of Boston came through with a three hitter, but Harder evened things up with five-hit ball to win 3-0.

Cleveland's Mound Staff
Beyond those two, Cleveland's mound staff consists mostly of Bobby Feller, who hasn't been doing so well and says his fast ball is gone. That's a none too promising list for a hard schedule of doubleheaders.

Allen allowed only five hits as he took his second defeat of the season and saw his 12-game winning streak end, but only one failed to count. The Sox went ahead on Pinky Higgins' double and Bobby Doerr's single in the second, added two runs on a walk, Higgins' single, Ken Keltner's error and a fielder's choice, and finished up with Jimmy Fox's 27th homer in the sixth.

Bagby held the tribe to six hits and fanned nine in the ninth but failed to stop Keltner and Jeff Heath. The former clouted his 17th homer for one run and doubled home another while Heath's triple and single each led to a run.

The New York Giants in the National League find themselves in a spot somewhat like Cleveland, only they're four games behind instead of just one as they return home. They lost nine out of 13 decisions on the road and to make in their deficit they have to check not only Pittsburgh's first place Pirates, but Chicago's threatening Cubs.

Mid-Weight Battle Set for 15 Rounds

Seattle, July 26.—(AP)—The overall kid from Seattle's Georgetown mill district gets his chance tonight at the world's middle-weight boxing crown when Al "Hostile" Hostak clashes with Freddie Steele, the champion from Tacoma.

The fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, but may be decided sooner because of the hefty pokes packed by the two principals. Challenger Hostak has scored 15 consecutive knockouts and hopes Steele will be No. 16. Steele is no cream-puff hitter himself, having scored 31 knockouts in his career.

The fighters are to weigh in today around 2 P. M., with Steele expected about 150 pounds and Hostak a pound lighter.

When the fight was announced, Steele was a 10-7 favorite in the wagering, but the odds have shrunk to 10-9 and indications are it will be an even-money argument by ringtime.

Jack Dempsey, former heavy-weight champion, will referee the match. Which Promoter Nate Druxman estimated would draw between 35,000 and 40,000 persons who will pay from $50.00 to $100.00 for the privilege.

The title bout is scheduled for 7:15 P. M. (Central Standard Time.)

GAME LAST NIGHT One of the season's "flashiest" games took place last night at the Airport ball park. Mother Nature, using Wind and Rain on the mound, and Lightning and Thunder behind the plate, held the Softball League to a shut-out.

WEDNESDAY'S GAMES
Reynolds Wire and Screen and California Markets will tangle for the first game on the twin bill at the Airport tomorrow night. Game time is set for 7:30. In the nightcap's taffy-pull the Black Farms will flip with the Dixon Fruit Company.

GOLFERS TO WALNUT
Dixon golfers from the Plum Hollow course will accept the invitation of the Walnut Country club on Sunday afternoon. Local players are asked to meet at Walnut at 1 o'clock. About twenty-five from here are expected to make the trip. Webb Poole urges his followers to tune up for the meet.

DOUBLES TOURNAMENT
George Covert, Jr., has announced that a city doubles tournament for tennis players will be held at the high school courts on August 7 and 14. Joslyn for arrangements.

SWIM MEET HALTED
Members of the Boy Scout troop No. 89, who went to Atkinson's pool last evening to participate in an aquatic program, completed but two events when the storm broke and they hurried home. Sanford's crew led in the four-man relay and 50-foot dash with a total of 10 points to 6 made by Feger's swimmers and had just started the diving events when the storm came. The meet will be continued at a later date.

PLANS SWIM MEET
Scoutmaster Ken Abbott of troop 89, is working on a plan for a soft ball contest and swimming meet at Lowell park soon. Members of the troop will organize soft ball teams of boys in different sections of the city, who are not members of Scout troops. An elimination series will decide a winner and all who are interested in swimming will then enjoy a program of competition at the Lowell beach. The date for the gathering is expected to attract not less than 100 boys is to be announced within a few days.

DIXON APPROVES
Chicago Cub fans in Dixon and Lee county for the most part welcome the appointment by "Boss" Wrigley of Leo "Gabby" Hartnett as manager of the team. However, all maintain that Cholly was a great fellow, a fine ball player and probably the best liked boss in the National loop. It is to be hoped that Hartnett will be able to procure the championship type of team from the Cub roster, which it is capable of developing, and Grimm's friends welcome hearing his voice over the radio describing the games of which he is perfectly capable.

ARE YOU SWELTERING?
Swimmers of Dixon and Lee county have a wide choice of pools this summer. In the east section of the county the Rochelle pool attracts many bathers, while in the west section, several patronize the Lawrence park pool. There are at present seven popular spots near Dixon, the Crawford and Atkinson pools, which have quite a following. The Lowell park beach is always popular and improvements have been made at the Assembly park beach which is attracting many bathers. The Franklin Grove pool is liberally patronized and there are many "swimmin' holes" which attract the younger generation who seek relief from the hot weather.

ROOD IS GUNNING FOR F. PARKER IN TENNIS TOURNAY

Number Three Man Is Promising To Be No
Soft Touch

Sea Bright, July 26.—(AP)—On the theory that no major tennis tourney is complete without a "giant-killer," Carlton Rood—who is already has taken the scalp of two high ranking stars this season—went gunning today for Frankie Parker in the second round of the Sea Bright invitation tournament.

Parker, nationally rated at number three and seeded behind defending champion Bobby Riggs in the current competition, promised to be no soft touch, but Rood said he would be "in there trying."

Rood, who with his twin brother, Wilson, is co-captain-elect of the University of North Carolina net squad, entered the tournament here without fanfare. Omitted from the regular invitation list, he was called into action when Barney Welsh of Rockville, Md., was unable to make the trip.

Buxby Defeated
Carlton yesterday took the court against Martin Buxby, sixteenth ranking American player, and beat him 1-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Rood displayed the same driving power that he showed two weeks ago at Spring Lake when he upset Frank Shields, former national tieholder.

Rood's victory stood out as the only singles upset, although John and Chester Shostrum, brother combination from Chicago, gave a noteworthy performance by winning 6-2, 6-4 over Hal Surface and Don McNeill in a second round doubles contest.

Miss Alice Marble, defending woman champion, was pitted today against Helen Germaine of New York after a 6-0, 6-0 opening victory over Jean Burritt of Toronto.

Riggs in Second Round
Bobby Riggs, fresh from his triumph in the Longwood final, was slated to begin against John Shostrum in a second round match.

Parker advanced yesterday, 6-2, 6-3, at the expense of William Robertson, while Bryan (Betsy) Grant eliminated lanky Alfred Jarvis, 9-7, 6-4. McNeill, seeded sixth in the singles play, dropped out to favor an ankle injury.

Besides Miss Marble, the other seeded women stars, Dorothy Bundy, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Babson and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, advanced into the second round.

AMERICANS TEE OFF TODAY FOR CANADIAN MEET

London, Ont., July 26.—(AP)—Led by Trailer Bill Holt of Syracuse, a dozen United States golfers tee off in the first round of the Canadian amateur championship over the London Hunt & Country club course's rolling fairways today.

All told 116 have entered the title chase. Heading the Canadian contingent were C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, six times winner, and Gordon B. Taylor, of Montreal, titlist in 1932, the only former champions in the field.

Two Utah golfers, Edwin C. Kingsley and Ven Savage, rank just behind Holt among the Americans. An other favorite from across the border is Henry J. Koval of Syracuse.

Others include Red Adams, Columbus, Mo.; D. Carmichael and H. Hedges, Columbus, Ohio; Robert Bingham, Mayfield, Ohio; R. C. Garretson and Dick Lutz, Ashland, Ohio; Ed Meister, Canterbury, Ohio, and John Foley, Jr., Grosse Ile, Mich. Bingham and Meister drew byes through the first round.

34 Convicted of Conspiracy File Appeal Sentences

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—Thirty-four persons sentenced to prison last December after conviction on conspiracy charges in connection with violence in Illinois coal fields, filed an appeal yesterday in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Maximum penalties of four years imprisonment and $20,000 fines were meted out by Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie after conviction of the miners on charges of interfering with interstate and foreign commerce and conspiring to obstruct the mails.

JACOBS-MOODY TENNIS FEUD TO CONTINUE

BY BILL BONI
New York, July 26.—(AP)—It looks like a banner year for the Jacobs-Moody tennis rivalry, which both participants are anxious to have you believe exists only on the tennis courts.

It has been going on since the days when Helen Jacobs, now 30, still was a junior; includes 20-odd meetings, counting minor tournaments, had its last renewal in a 6-4, 6-0 "walk-over" for 33-year-old Helen Wills Moody at Wimbledon this year after Miss Jacobs turned her ankle in the second set, and is likely to have two more engagements before the season ends.

The first should be in the Essex County invitation at Manchester, Mass., which starts August 15, and the second in the national singles at Forest Hills September 8-17.

On their return from Europe, Miss Jacobs ten days ago and Mrs. Moody yesterday, each announced that Manchester would be her first tournament and each said she would play at Forest Hills, Miss Jacobs in quest of her fifth title, Mrs. Moody her eighth.

Granted that "Jake" recovers from her ankle injury and "Poker Face" from a slight back strain, their Wimbledon showings indicate there should be little to stop them from reaching both finals.

After playing at Manchester, in the national doubles at Brookline and at Forest Hills, Mrs. Moody will go on a lecture tour in mid-October. She will address clubs and forums designing her talks "more for those who are just interested in the game than for regular players."

FELLER FAMILY WATCH BOB ON MOUND TODAY

Cleveland, July 26.—(AP)—If a touch of homesickness helped to throw Bob Feller off his pitching stride, as the young hurler's Dad believes, everything should be hunky-dory today.

For awaiting Mr. and Mrs. William Feller and Bob's 9-year-old "kid sister" were reserved seats for the opening game of the Philadelphia-Cleveland series and the lad who sky-rocketed to fame out of Van Meter, Iowa, was scheduled to take the mound for the Indians.

The tribe returned to Cleveland from Boston after dividing a double-header yesterday, dropping the first game, 4-0, and snaring the second, 3-0.

Dad Not Worried
Only a few days ago Master Robert told newsmen he had lost his fast ball. The occasion was an interview after the Boston Red Sox hammered him from the mound in a third inning onslaught.

"Dad" Feller, who arrived from Iowa with the family late yesterday, took his stalwart son's statement "with a grain of salt."

"I'm not worried about Robert," he remarked calmly. "He hasn't lost his fast ball. I think he may be just a little bit homesick. We'll all be out there to see him against the Athletics."

The father said Bob recently wrote that he "was very anxious to see us." The Fellers decided to spend two weeks with the 19-year-old strikeout artist, who has won 10 and lost five games to date this season.

Equine Highball

Dean Hanover cools off with an equine Tom Collins which is on 11-year-old Alma Sheppard, who last fall drove the world famous trotter to his mark of 1:58 1/2. Alma, daughter of Dean Hanover's owner, Lawrence B. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., will be on hand when her favorite goes to the post in the Progressive at Good Time Park, Gothen, N. Y., Aug. 11.

TENNIS LADDER TO BE PLAYED OFF IN AUGUST

Date for Tournament
Changed From Labor
Day as Urged

Several players on the Dixon tennis ladder are anxious to spend the Labor Day week end out of town and have urged that the 1938 city championship tournament be played off sooner.

It is hoped that by moving the date, those on the ladder rungs will get busy and enter into this last-minute competition. A month's notice, therefore, is served on all players.

On Sunday, August 21, a play-off will begin and continued until the following Sunday when the city champion will be crowned and receive the Malay Cup, a trophy to be presented by the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

Interest Has Lagged
Interest in the tennis ladder has slumped somewhat in the past few weeks and players are now urged to compete in accordance with the rules of the contest.

There is still plenty of time for players to contest other men for a better position on the ladder. On Sunday, August 21, the top eight ranking players on the ladder at that time will be eligible to compete for the championship.

It is hoped by all those interested in making the tournament a success that no one will be inconvenienced by the new plans. It is hoped, on the other hand, that players will welcome this change and the spur to interest in city tennis.

The results in each match in the "ladder climb" must be reported to the sports department of the Telegraph within two days after completion of the match.

ST. PAUL TOPS MINOR LEAGUE PENNANT RACE

St. Paul, July 26.—(AP)—St. Paul held a two and a half game advantage, one of the biggest in American Association history, has been able to muster in the recent four-way, first-place scramble, as it met the challenge today of second place Kansas City.

The Apostles bolstered their lead preparatory to the important four game series with the Blues by nosing out Toledo 4 to 3 yesterday while Kansas City fell before Indianapolis, 9 to 3.

A late rally punctuated by Tony York's homer in the eighth won the game for St. Paul after Joe Rogalski, Toledo hurler, had faced only 18 men in blanking the Saints for the first six innings.

Vance Paub subdued the aspiring Blues on eight hits while his mates pounded two Kansas City hurlers for 15.

The big explosion of the day took place at Minneapolis where the seventh place Columbus Red Birds, last when you refer to the team batting averages, blasted away for 24 hits to sink Minneapolis, 21 to 1. Buddy Hasson, Red Bird first sacker, hit three homers and a single and came within one run of the record for runs batted in when he drove across eight. Two big innings, the fourth and ninth, brought Columbus seven and eight runs, respectively.

Yesterday's other contest, a double header between Louisville and Milwaukee was rained out. Today, Milwaukee faced Minneapolis, Toledo took on Louisville and Columbus was at Indianapolis.

Higher Wages for Employees in State Constitutions Urged

Joliet, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Higher wages for employees at state penal institutions will be asked of the next legislature, A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare, said yesterday.

Speaking at a conference of public welfare department officials at the Illinois penitentiary here, Bowen listed better pay and better training for employees as prerequisites of efficient administration.

Bowen said the population of the institutions had increased 3,000 in the past year without an increase in facilities. The growing prison population, he said, required a well-trained personnel.

On the Side Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, July 26.—(AP)—If Burgess Whitehead has his way he will be back with the Giants in three weeks. . . . His side feels much better. . . . His mother would rather he would wait another month, but "Rats" (as they call him) down in eastern North Carolina wants to get back in harness real bad. . . . Hank Wolfe, crack sports writer of the Richmond (Va.) News Leader, spent a couple of days in New York press boxes last week and didn't like the way they score hits and errors up here. . . . He says they're too stingy with their errors and too lenient with their hits. . . . We've had the same complaint, Hank, but after all what the official scorer says goes.

Jack Stingham, all Rocky Mountain conference fullback from Brigham Young university in Utah, wore out five headguards smacking the line last season. . . . Since quitting school Jack has tried professional boxing and now has signed with the Pittsburgh and San Bernardino club, but he says the Pirates have been fooling around with the idea of training in Miami next spring. . . . They may change their minds and stick to California, but there have been things in the air and we doubt that even Bill Berswanger, president of the Pittsburgh club, will deny it.

Walter (Big Train) Johnson still is packing 'em in. . . . He's barnstorming around with a Washington semi-pro team and usually tosses 'em up in barnyard practice. . . . Remember Riley Smith, Cliff Bates and Charlie Malone of professional football fame? . . . Well, they're playing ball for the same old club. . . . Al Schacht, who packed 'em in at Minneapolis with the greatest crowd there in five years. . . . Al says the majors want him back but that he had to reject all offers this year because he's booked solidly in the minors. . . . Quite a feller, that Schacht, and a great "bring 'em in" attraction wherever you put him.

Unless Lou Gehrig perks up he is unlikely to bat in his customary 100 runs this season. . . . Mrs. Moody, here, flouts reports of any feud with Helen Jacobs. . . . Are you still listening? . . . News item: Terry Giants can't agree among themselves if Dizzy Dean's pitching comeback is a complete success. . . . They want to wait and see what Dizzy can do against them in the Polo grounds. . . . One reason why Whizzer White decided not to compete in the charity game at Chicago Aug. 31 is that he is going on the air for eight weeks as a sort of "Major Bowes" in a charity hunt program.

American Association fans are getting a big kick out of the way the head quessers of the Cardinals chain system are guessing wrong. . . . They let Pittsburgh get Johnny Rizzo from their Columbus farm club in the Cardinals' trade. . . . They picked Enos Slaughter, who has been somewhat of a bust. . . . The Denver Post baseball tournament which opened July 21, is one of the oldest in the country, starting in 1915. . . . More power Tony Gento who is up against the toughest guy he ever faced. . . .

DIXON CAMP TO BE INVADED BY WALTON SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at Reynolds field, starting at 2:30, Walton will play the Dixon Knacks. Walton hasn't been able to get over the 4 to 2 defeat the Knacks handed them some weeks ago. West Brooklyn and Walton are still tied for first place and the Knacks would like to break that tie.

The local team is in third place and hasn't much chance of winning the championship after losing the jinxed affair to Maytown, 6 to 4, last Sunday.

Ole Prestegard will be on the mound for the Knacks Sunday and fans will remember what happened the last time Ole faced Walton. Windmill, leading hitter of the Dixon team, will be behind the plate.

The largest crowd of the season is expected as this game means a great deal to Walton and if the Knacks can knock them off, Walton will certainly go home talking to themselves.

Practice will be held tonight and Thursday.

Springfield Having Three-Eye Troubles

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—Springfield is finding its efforts to catch the second place Decatur Combies about as aggravating as the Combies in turn are finding their pursuit of the Three Eye's league-leading Evansville Bees.

Springfield lost its second in a row to Decatur yesterday, 6 to 2, and dropped four and one-half games behind the runners-up. Victory for Decatur, on the other hand, left the Combies still six games out of first despite Evansville's 6 to 3 loss to Bloomington.

In yesterday's only other game, Waterloo scored eight runs in the first two innings and went on to defeat Clinton, 10 to 6. Rain prevented Cedar Rapids' game at Moline.

TELEGRAPH TO BACK ALL-STARS SOFTBALL POLL

Team To Be Chosen To Play Marketeters in Post-Season Event

Ballots for the Telegraph's All-stars Softball team will be distributed soon and followers of the sport will be given a chance to select their favorite players.

This year, as a climax to the city softball schedule, fans will be given the opportunity to vote for an all-stars team which will play the California Markets in a post-season clambake.

With the Marketeters kings of the hill at the start of the contest, they become the logical opponents for a team made up from players selected from any of the other eleven clubs in the league. Manager Paul Potts who pilots the league's leaders has agreed to the post-season affair.

CIRCUIT COURT DISTRICTS MAY BE INCREASED

Jo Daviess, Stephenson and Winnebago Suggested Tie-Up

Springfield, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—A plan for revamping the state's circuit court districts to relieve congested docket conditions was prepared today by an Illinois legislative council sub-committee.

The project is one of several undertaken by the council preparatory to placing proposed laws before the legislature when it convenes in January.

Sen. Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican and sub-committee chairman, said in an effort to re-balance the districts according to the shift in population centers, three new districts had been added and minimum changes made in the 17 others to place the average population at about 180,000, or where it stood in 1905.

Horner Has Set-Up

Governor Horner is said to favor a set-up making a separate district of each county, with one court of general jurisdiction, but the constitution would have to be changed to initiate such a plan.

Two of the council's proposed new districts would be created in the territory around Madison and St. Clair counties, where industrial centers have sprung up with a corresponding increase in work for circuit judges.

Jersey county would be taken from the present seventh district, Montgomery from the fourth, and Madison and Bond from the third to form district 18. Monroe and St. Clair would remain as the third district.

Clinton from the fourth, Randolph, Perry and Washington from the third, Jackson from the first and Franklin from the second to create district 19.

Local Situation

The new 20th district would comprise Jo Daviess and Stephenson of the 15th and Winnebago of the 17th.

The program is to be presented to the full council September 12, after which the sub-committee plans to hold meetings with jurists and others interested in the move at Rockford, Springfield and East St. Louis.

Cooperation of the Circuit Judges Association of Illinois was promised by President Judge Walter Wright of Jacksonville and Secretary Judge Chalmers C. Taylor of Bloomington.

Besides Gunning, sub-committee members are Representatives Sam Perry of Wheaton, Edward J. McCabe of Chicago, William F. Gibbs of Quincy, and Senator Harold Ward of Chicago, all Democrats.

NUDIST BANDITS BEING SOUGHT IN "LITTLE EGYPT"

Springfield, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—State police searched for four "nude bandits" today throughout central and southern Illinois.

At least three times in the last six weeks the four men have held up young couples on state highways, directed them to drive to lonely roads and there forced the victims to disrobe while robbing them of their cars and cash.

Lieut. Raymond May of the highway police said officers throughout the southern half of the state received the same "must" orders for the quartet's capture as resulted recently in arrest of two youthful highwaymen who specialized in daylight holdups of women motorists.

Roy Miller, 21, of Barnett, Ill., and a young woman companion were the latest victims in a Sunday night holdup on a state highway near Litchfield. Miller was robbed of $23 and his automobile. The couple borrowed clothing from a nearby farmer and reported the robbery.

Similar robberies were staged previously near Alton and Edwardsville.

Lieut. May said the search was hampered by lack of clues, although victims agreed the bandit quartet traveled in a 1933 model sedan and were young men between 25 and 35 years old.

It is reported by authorities that boys under 20 years of age are the most frequent offenders in the matter of passing another car on a hill.

AAA Proposals—

ernment made public two steps designed to bolster the value of wheat—loans on the 1938 crop and reduction in acreage for harvest next year. But the price has declined about four cents since and now is seven to nine cents below the actual figure at which loans can be made here.

Talk of record world wheat production, big crops in important exporting countries and the prospect of a heavy surplus have dominated the market, traders said, more than offsetting any bullish factors. Thus, buying has lagged at a time when most needed to absorb "hedging" sales by which commercial dealers insure themselves against possible loss in handling new grain enroute to consumers.

Much Uncertainty

Traders said the proposal to cut United States plantings for next year's crop almost one-third has had little direct bearing on the market, except possibly to show the extent of the effort to be exerted to keep the surplus down. The loan program has had an uncertain effect, they contend, because, like the acreage curtailment plan, it depends on the extent of farmer acceptance.

Many traders believe a sharp drop in marketings recently indicated to some extent that much wheat would be put in store on loan, thus holding it off the market at least temporarily. What will happen when this stored surplus mounts cannot be foreseen, they said.

Traders said there is enough elevator space in the country to hold a billion bushels. Half of this space, they said, is available at principal terminal markets.

Texas Democratic Nominee Approved

Fort Worth, Tex., July 26.—(AP)—W. Lee O'Daniel, hillbilly musician extraordinary, is "my kind of a Democrat," said L. W. Roberts, Jr., of Washington, secretary-treasurer of the national Democratic executive committee.

O'Daniel swung into the Democratic gubernatorial nomination on Saturday with a mountain music and old-age pension campaign. Roberts dropped in on the Fort Worth flour merchant yesterday, then announced:

"This man is no political fanatic. He is a real man and he knows what he is doing. x x x

"He will have the full support of the Democratic party.

"He is my kind of a Democrat."

Prince Franz I of Liechtenstein Dead

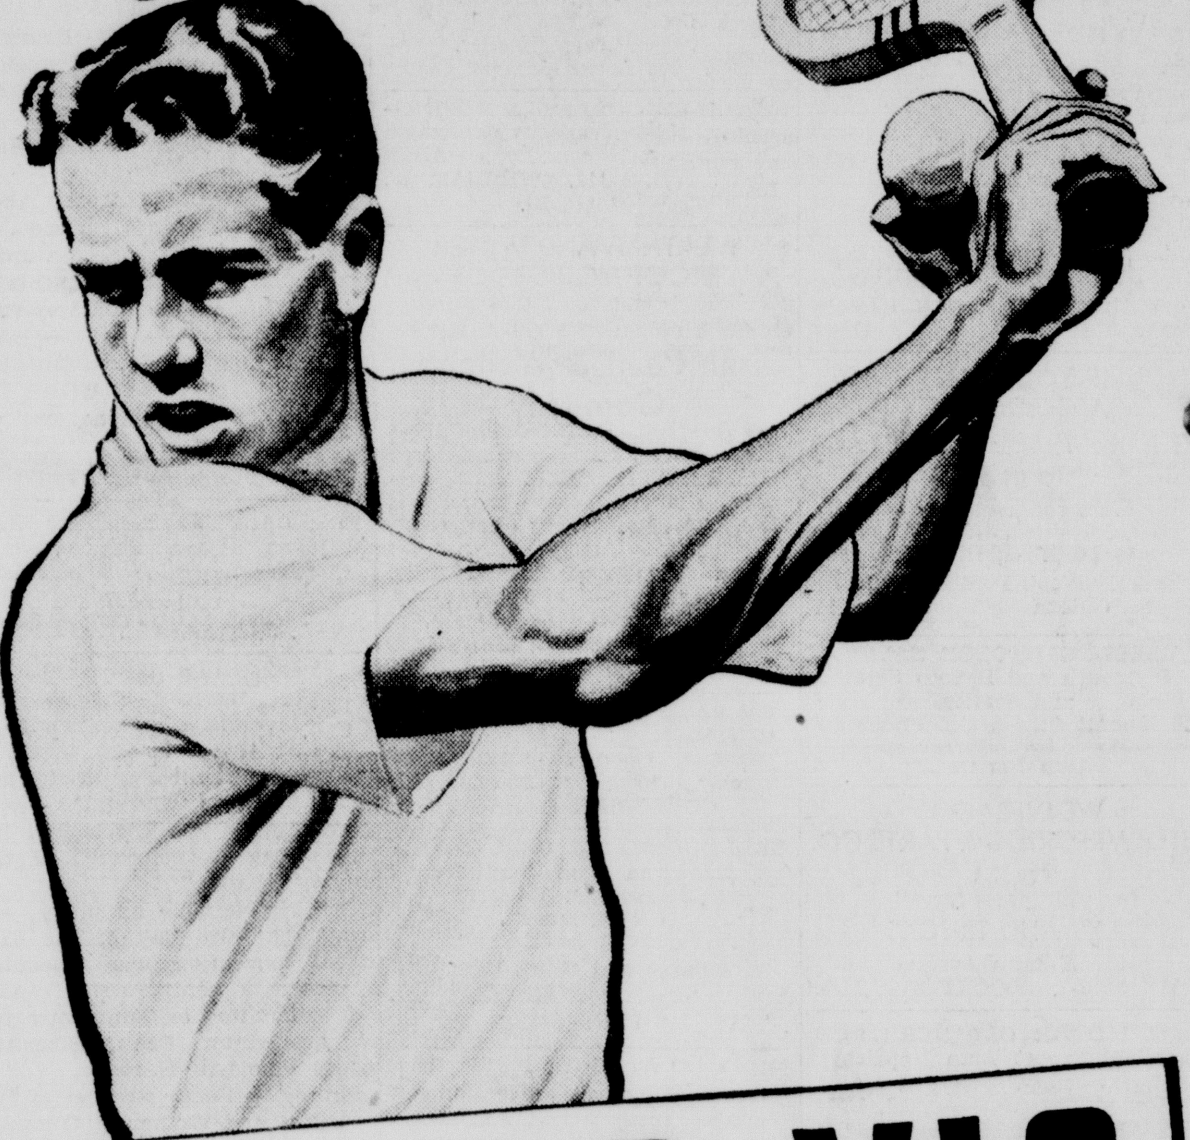

Vaduz, Liechtenstein, July 26.—(AP)—Europe's oldest one-time ruler, Prince Franz I of Liechtenstein, died yesterday at Castle Feldberg, Czechoslovakia. He was 85.

Born Aug. 28, 1853, he succeeded his brother, Johann, in 1929 as ruler of the 65-mile square principality, wedged between Switzerland and former Austria, with a population of about 10,000.

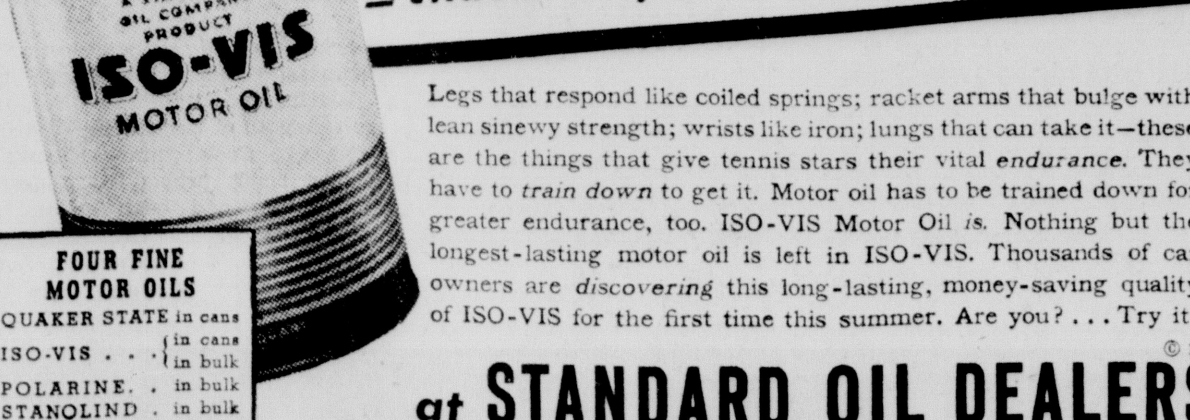

After the Austrian Anschluss, Prince Franz on March 31 delegated the powers of government to Prince Franz Josef, his 32-year-old grand nephew.
